

BRANCHING OUT

IPM NEWSLETTER

Benefits of Subscribing

- Receive timely information on all aspects of insect, mite, and disease management for the northeast United States, with emphasis on New York State.
- Guide your pest management activities toward windows of maximum opportunity.
- Improve your diagnostic skills.
- Keep yourself aware of new developments in IPM.

Description

- Faculty and staff in Cornell's Plant Pathology & Plant-Microbe Biology Section, in cooperation with Cornell Cooperative Extension educators, developed this IPM newsletter.
- Pest information is gathered throughout the growing season via on-site scouting at selected locations from Long Island to Rochester. This information, together with tips from professional and trade literature, is used to prepare up-to-date articles of interest to you.

Contents

Scouting Reports, Diagnostic Lab Findings around the State and Region, New Developments, Growing Degree Days, Phenology, and an in-depth Feature Article.

Publishing Schedule

The newsletter is published every two weeks from April through June and every three weeks for the remainder of the season.

Access to Branching Out

In addition to 2024 issues by mail, you can receive access to the on-line version at no additional cost. This is available only to paid subscribers with a password, which is e-mailed upon receipt of subscription.

Need More Information? Check Out Our Web Site

Back issues are available for you to view on our web site. Come see all that we have to offer! Our web site address is: branchingout.cornell.edu

SPECIAL PRICE — sign up NOW for 2024 and save!

- ▶ 2024 EARLY BIRD PRICE: $60 for 2024 print issues + online access for 2024. Save $5! Payment must be received by March 1, 2024.
- ▶ 2024 Regular Price (after March 1, 2024): $65

To subscribe, fill out this form and send it with your check or money order payable to Cornell University to:

Branching Out, PPPMB Section, Cornell University, P.O. Box 6699, Ithaca, NY 14851.

Or pay online at: <https://branchingoutcrd.securepayments.cardpointe.com/pay>

Name _____

Business Name _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip Code _____ Phone (w/area code) _____

Email Address _____

Renewal New Subscription

of Subscriptions (if different names/addresses than above, please include a page with details) _____ Amount Enclosed _____

Donations help make Branching Out possible. Become a donor now! Contact Shari Romar, Managing Editor, at sr369@cornell.edu.